

A bright, modern interior space with large windows, a dark wood table, and a chandelier. The room features light-colored wood paneling, a large chandelier with multiple white shades, and a dark wood table with a patterned rug. The text is overlaid on a semi-transparent white background.

RENAISSANCE

WINDOWS & DOORS™

Selection. Expertise. Service at Every Step.™

BEFORE YOU BUY

What you should know

About us

For more than 26 years Renaissance Windows & Doors has been Houston's trusted source for custom luxury windows and doors. We offer a huge selection from top manufacturers to bring the latest trends and innovations with durability, beauty and performance.

Smart Investment

Replacement windows and doors are some of the only updates to your home that impact the inside and outside--it's almost like two for the price of one!

Unlike many home improvements in which you won't see a return on your investment (ROI) until you sell your home, replacement windows and doors can yield an immediate ROI, some estimate as high as 70%. New, double pane, energy efficient windows which replace single pane windows, can reduce electric bills as much as 24% in the winter, and 18% in the summer. Federal energy tax credits may also be taken in the year in which the windows and doors are installed.

Impact, security windows may reduce home owner's insurance premiums and protect your home from burglars, home invaders, and severe weather--no more boarding windows when a hurricane is on the way!

In-home Consultation

Consultation--not a pushy sales pitch! Our experts will guide you to select the perfect fit for your home.

@julieschultz_interiorarchitect

Visit our Showroom

Renaissance Windows & Doors represents more than a dozen of the top manufacturers in the USA, known for their unsurpassed quality, innovation, integrity, and service. Touch, feel, see a vast selection of styles, finishes, and colors.

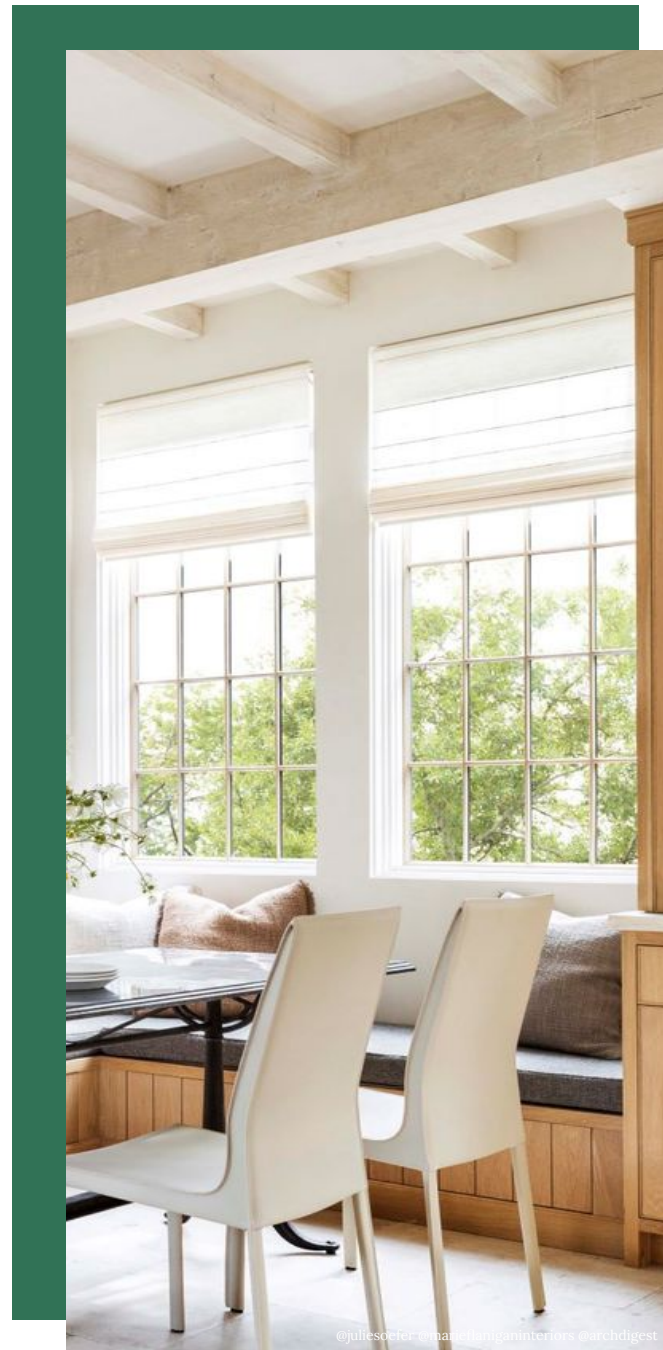

Any good quality window and door will only perform well if they are correctly fit to the opening and properly installed.

Some companies only sell standard sized, generic fit, windows and doors. The opening in your home is then manipulated to fit the off-the-shelf product. This can compromise a home's seals, causing leaks, rot, weather damage or unwanted pests-damage which you normally would not see but could result in costly repairs in the future.

Renaissance Windows & Doors sells custom windows and doors, precisely fit to each of your home's openings. Once you have selected the windows and doors right for your project, our Service Tech will conduct a Field Measure to ensure the perfect fit.

Once the windows and doors are received from the manufacturer, Renaissance Windows & Doors sends our in-house installers to do the job- we don't trust your project with outside contractors. Staff installers use our Exclusive 24-Install process to ensure your windows and doors are expertly installed and warranted for years of excellent performance.

Custom Fit

Learn the Lingo

There are many different window styles, many of which are defined by how the window does or does not open.

Two of the most common window styles are the Double Hung and Single Hung windows. On a single hung window, the bottom sash opens. Double hung styles have sashes that open from the bottom and the top. Many double hung windows have sashes that can be tilted into the room for easy cleaning without removing the screen. This is especially popular on upper level floors.

Glider or Sliding windows slide from side to side. These windows save space where a swinging sash would get in the way. These windows can have either one, or both sashes slide, and can be either left- or right-gliding.

Casement windows are hinged on one side and swing open. Some styles of casement windows use a crank, handle or lever as an opening mechanism.

Awning windows are hinged at the top and swing outward at the bottom, creating an awning effect which is optimal to exclude rain while still admitting airflow.

Bay windows are typically three windows which project outward from an outside wall. These windows capture light from three angles. Many times, the center window is larger with smaller windows flanking on each side.

Bow windows are typically four or five windows in a curve design, creating a rounded appearance on the exterior of the home.

Specialty shaped windows can add visual interest to a home. These windows can have rounded tops like the half round, or eyebrow shapes. Right- and left- quarter round windows, and full circles. Other styles include polygon shapes like a pentoid, trapezoid, pentagon, right- or left- triangle, octagon, rectangle, isosceles triangle, hexagon, and clipped corners. Multiple combinations and assembly options make these windows popular to achieve open views and abundant natural light.

1. Casing- exterior molding around the window frame.

2. Sash - holds the glass panes together whether operable or inoperable.

3. Head Jamb - horizontal piece at the top of the window frame.

4. Blindstop - on a double hung window between jambs and casing.

5. Check/Meeting Rail - on a double hung window the two horizontal sashes that meet in the center.

6. Stile - upright vertical perimeter piece of sash.

7. Jamb Extension - used to extend the interior of your window to cover the thickness of your walls and transition between interior and trim.

8. Sill - bottom horizontal piece of the window frame.

9. Rail - the cross or horizontal members of the framework of the sash.

10. Stool - horizontal trim piece that laps windowsill above the apron and extends to the interior casing.

11. Apron - piece of casing or trim installed against the wall immediately beneath the stool of the window.

12. Jamb - the pieces that form the top, sides, and bottom of the window frame.

13. Parting Bead - a narrow strip between the upper and lower sashes of a double hung window frame, enabling them to slide past each other.

14. Glazing/Lite - Glazing refers to the glass in a window or the process of fitting a unit with glass. Lite is separately framed panes of glass.

The Basics

Know the Process

In-Home Consultation

One of our knowledgeable sales consultants will visit your home to assess the scope of your project, and to see your home's unique style and decor. He will listen to your needs and desires to make sure he has a clear understanding. Next, he will educate you on the options available to accomplish your goals and give you the best possible outcome. Our sales representatives are not like "the other guys" who use high pressure sales tactics to insist you to sign a contract on the spot. We want to make sure you have time to ask questions, explore options, and make an informed decision.

Visit the Showroom

See it! Touch it! Turn the knobs! Lift the latches! Compare colors and styles. Make sure your new windows and doors will delight you for years to come!

Apply for Financing

Once your window and door selection is finalized, several payment options are available including 12-months, $0 Down payment, 0% Interest. No payments until next year! Other financing options offer longer terms with equal payments. Or, simply pay 1/2 down and the remainder will be due at installation.

Field Measure

One of our Service Technicians is scheduled for a visit to your home. He will take precise measurements to ensure your custom windows and doors fit perfectly.

Your Order is Finalized

The measurements are submitted. The paperwork is meticulously reviewed, and your order is placed with the manufacturer. We will let you know the estimated ship date provided by the manufacturer. Along the way, we'll keep you updated as we carefully monitor the progress of your order.

Order is Received

Your order is delivered to our warehouse. Our quality team thoroughly inspects your order. If everything is correct, the installation is scheduled.

Installation

Our expert team of installers are not outside contractors--they are our employees! They follow our Exclusive 24-Install process to ensure your windows and doors project is completed correctly and to your satisfaction.

Service and Follow-up

After your project is installed, our customer service team will follow-up with any questions or concerns you may have.

RENAISSANCE WINDOWS & DOORS™

Selection. Expertise. Service at Every Step.™

713-863-9988
info@renwd.com

RenaissanceWindowsAndDoors.com

7026 Old Katy Rd #158 Houston TX 77024